Re: BOE Meeting Good News

The Soaring Eagles Club was started on November 30, 2012 to recognize outstanding character in our students. Teachers (or any adult) are able to recommend students to the club to be recognized at any time. Once nominated, I take a picture of the student and welcome the student to the club. A 'poster' of each student, along with the reason they have been recognized is then hung in the hallway, near the cafeteria, for everyone to see. I also mail a copy of the flyer home to the student's parents and e-mail the Pre-k-4 staff.

*Information about the program and the current members is posted on **
*my web page to share with community. There is no specific criterion for ** *membership and there will never be a limit to the number of members.

So far, the students and teachers are excited about the program and are emulating the positive behaviors of the Soaring Eagles.

A brief club description, list of current members, and example student posters are below.

 Emma is a positive role model and always helping others. I often hear her saying encouraging words to her classmates. She always has a smile on her face.

• Jadyn consistently displays unprovoked acts of kindness. She is very kind and patient with ALL of her classmates and always works hard to make the right decisions in school.

Ernie Lipscomb (12/12/12)

Ernie Lipscomb puts away folders/ games for other children during math center rotation; he pushes in chairs throughout the day; and, he is putting forth consistent effort to make appropriate decisions.

★Kylee Ellsworth (12/7/12)

 Kylee is ALWAYS kind to everyone in her classroom. She is a positive role model for both first and second graders in multiage.

Mercedes Wolcott (12/6/12)

Mercedes always says "thank you" to anyone who does something for her. She thanked Mrs. Mills for coming to help Mrs. Walters' class with Math as Mrs. Mills was leaving the room this week.
She said, "Thank you for coming to help us with math." Mercedes is a thoughtful little girl!

 Lyndsay is a wonderful role model to the other children and consistently goes out of her way to show kindness to others.

★Matthew Freeman (12/5/12)

Matthew has a kind heart and is a good friend to everyone every day.

☆Garrett vanLogten (11/30/12)

 Garrett walks through the cafeteria every morning and pushes in the chairs after students have left without ever being asked to do it.
